Mission Statement

The purpose of the Subcommittee on Brucellosis is to support the complete eradication of the disease in the United States. After the disease is eliminated from the United States, the focus will be on protecting the United States from re-introduction by maintaining strict domestic health standards, through trade negotiations, and other safeguarding and biosecurity efforts for the protection of animal and public health.

The Subcommittee on Brucellosis serves as a forum for ideas and proposals that have been submitted to it by state and federal members, industry representatives, researchers, wildlife interests and others. The Subcommittee on Brucellosis engages working groups that serve to facilitate its goals.
